

An aerial photograph of a lighthouse situated on a small, grassy island. The lighthouse is a tall, cylindrical tower with alternating orange and white horizontal bands, topped with a black lantern room. Two small white buildings with orange roofs are located at the base of the lighthouse. The island is surrounded by a body of water, and the background shows a distant shoreline with wind turbines under a cloudy sky.

Online-Workshop

Neue Geodaten durch Radarbefliegung

www.disy.net/geowam